

CJ Smuin Memorial Scholarship

HITTING CAMP

Coach Landon Wareham is a former player of the Mesa State Mavericks and Baltimore Orioles and current coach of the Montrose Indians in Montrose, Colorado. He has also been very involved in coaching and running the youth leagues of Montrose. Through this, Landon has laid a foundation for baseball by instilling discipline for the game and providing the fundamentals necessary to become a successful baseball player. He was CJ's coach when he was 9. We credit much of CJ's success to the coaching of Coach Wareham. He brings years of experience and knowledge in hitting fundamentals and techniques.

Landon will be assisted by his dad, Brent Wareham. Coach Brent has over thirty years of coaching experience in high school baseball. Coach Brent is also a former school administrator. Through his experience, he stresses the importance of sportsmanship and work ethic that he has seen in successful players over the years.
